

Chuckwalla

The unusual wrinkles of the Chuckwalla Lizard don't look real great, but they are a matter of life and death. When a Chuckwalla-Eater wants Chuck for an afternoon snack, a funny thing happens...Chuck becomes a dry-land puffer. He runs to the nearest crack in the rocks, gets in the crack and makes himself a lizard balloon. He blows himself up is wedges in so tight that his enemy cannot pull him out. The Chuckwalla defense is just one more remarkable protection device designed by God to help us understand and appreciate His astonishing creative genius, care and humor.

“For since the creation of the world God’s invisible qualities— his eternal power and divine nature— have been clearly seen, being understood from what has been made, so that men are without excuse.”

(Romans 1:20)
